

Our LETS
Christmas Celebration
20th January 2015

A dozen of us LETS members met for their Christmas celebration at the Avon Brewery. The pub cum restaurant is under new management and now specialises in Portuguese cuisine whilst still offering standard British favourites including, at the time, a very varied Christmas menu. The service, from Michelle the co-owner, was superb: friendly, helpful and efficient. All of which contributed to a very pleasant evening.

But the best part was, of course, the people. LETS folk are always good company, so interesting conversations abounded, from useful information to shared reminiscences. Thanks, Marlene, for lending me your husband for the evening. Who'd have thought anyone in Salisbury would have heard of Grains Bar? (It's a place near Oldham, not a local hostelry.) And LETS being LETS, there was a lot of networking. So much easier when you're face to face, which is why social gatherings are such a good idea. While I was there I've made arrangements for some much-needed computer tuition and also help with the garden. And, lovely, thoughtful lot we are, I had several offers of lifts home.

So altogether a splendid evening.
